

Morning Journal.

BY THE ALBUQUERQUE PUBLISHING CO.
Friday, September 29, 1892.

Five old porters drawn from the wood; wine and liquors for family and medicinal use; champagne and cigars at W. E. Talbot's, the only reliable wholesale house in New Mexico.

SEND THEM AWAY.

The Journal has printed a large number of supplements containing a review of the proceedings of the Exposition, the list of premiums awarded, etc., and they are now ready for sale at the Journal counting room. The supplement contains in addition to the proceedings of the exposition, an article descriptive of the growth and development of Albuquerque, the mineral and agricultural resources of the Territory and a great deal of additional valuable information, making fourteen columns of solid reading matter. It is just the thing to send East to your friends. Several large orders were received for the supplements before they were printed and the supply will be limited.

SUBS OF NEWS.

Mrs. William Borchert is seriously ill.

All trains into Albuquerque yesterday were light.

The Las Vegas papers are full of Robinson's circus.

Con Cadden looked up a noisy street yesterday afternoon.

O. C. Vizer has been added to Postmaster Hughes' clerical force.

A smelter and woolen mill will give Albuquerque another little boom.

New business houses are being established in the city at a rapid rate.

Dr. Z. B. Sawyer is building a fine brick residence in the Armijo Bros. addition.

Both branches of the Methodist church hold conferences in Albuquerque next month.

The Santa Fe hose company will give a grand firemen's ball on the night of October 12.

Rev. W. X. Sheppard will open a private school in the Gold Avenue mission chapel next Monday.

The building boom has scarcely commenced. Houses will go up by the wholesale in a short time.

Al. Connors says he will return to Albuquerque in time to take a hand in the elections in November.

W. E. Talbot's handsome sample room and club house will be open to night. It takes the lead in the Territory.

The Albuquerque delegation to the Santa Fe convention will probably arrive in this city on to-day's emigrant train.

The miners in this vicinity are already making preparations to supply the Hubbs smelter with ore when it is set up and in running order in this vicinity.

Old John Robinson met with poor success in Santa Fe, a rain and wind storm keeping the crowds away from his show.

The Democrats of Albuquerque would have been well pleased if Judge Trimble had accepted the nomination in Santa Fe.

Jim McDonald, a chronic vag, was run out of town yesterday by the united efforts of Judge Sullivan and Con Cadden. It was a hard job, but they accomplished it.

It requires a horse and wagon now to transport the mail for this city from the depot to the postoffice. The contractor yesterday fitted a vehicle up for that purpose.

The Opera House was opened again last night with a variety performance. The institution is drawing rapidly to the close of its eventful career and the managers are about broke up.

Con. Cadden is the chief deputy sheriff of Bernalillo county. He arrests more criminals and is intrusted with more business by the attorneys than all the rest of the deputies combined.

The Black Crook company, as it was in this city, will break up here. Some of the company will go to Pueblo with the scenery and other effects, and this company will be reorganized and take the road.

J. B. Hall, the jovial postmaster at Coolidge, always has a warm welcome for Albuquerque people, and especially for a Journal man, as a representative of this paper, who recently visited him in his office.

The Black Crook will again be produced in Albuquerque to-morrow night. This time it is for the farwell benefit of Mr. E. P. Sullivan. N. J. has made lots of friends who will turn out and give him a lift.

Walter Cooper, firm of Cooper Brothers, candy manufacturers, has returned from Albuquerque, where he established a branch house. Mr. Charlie Cooper goes to Albuquerque to manage the affairs of the branch.—Las Vegas Optic.

There was a deaf and dumb man in this city yesterday inquiring the prices of farming property. The agents had some little difficulty in making matters plain to him, but of one fact they feel sure, and that is that he will make a heavenly neighbor.

Albuquerque is no place for old fogies. The only firm in Albuquerque that does not advertise are now selling out their business. They could not live, and will have to go to some town back east where inhabitants are as old fogies as themselves.

Bell & Co. trotted out yesterday a dandy delivery wagon named the "Cyclone." It is to be shipped to Albuquerque for their new grocery store there.—Gazette. The wagon is here and is now in active use trotting groceries to all parts of the city.

It is said that Judge Trimble made a very eloquent speech before the Democratic convention when he declined the nomination. The Judge knows how to do that sort of thing perfectly well, and he doubtless made the Democrats in the convention think they were living in the age of orators.

The principal streets of the city were thoroughly cleaned before the fair by Con. Cadden, but they now look as if they had not been cleaned up for a year. Business men should take enough interest in the sanitary condition of the city to at least keep cleaned up in front of their doors.

Spiegelberg Bros. deny the statement that Mrs. Edward Medler received the first premium for foreign and domestic millinery goods. She did receive the first premium for domestic millinery goods, but Spiegelberg Bros. received the first premium for imported millinery goods, and also for dry goods.

Santiago Baca, of this city, yesterday received a telegram from Santa Fe asking him if he would accept the Democratic nomination as delegate to Congress from New Mexico. He peremptorily declined. The nomination has been going the trouble not being in deciding upon some man, but upon getting some man to accept it. There does not appear to be much belief that the Democrats will be able to elect their candidate.

RAILROAD REVIEW.

The Atlantic & Pacific passenger train arrived in the city twenty minutes behind schedule time yesterday afternoon. A freight train on the Santa Fe road just ahead of it caused the delay.

There are good reasons for believing that Albuquerque will be made the end of a division on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and that the shops and other railroad institutions now located in Wallace will be removed to this city. The Journal predicts that this change will be made in less than six months, and probably within three months.

The people of this city ought not to be in too much of a hurry in complaining that the Santa Fe road is not doing as much for Albuquerque as for other towns in New Mexico. Albuquerque will yet be the headquarters of this corporation in the Territory. Already preliminary steps are being taken with this end in view.

It is said that the Texas, Santa Fe and Northern railroad is having no more trouble, and that everything is running smoothly.

The rates for the grand excursion of Knights Templar to the Pacific coast in August, 1893, from the points named will be as follows: From Omaha or Kansas City via Ogden or Denning and return, $75; from St. Louis (and Memphis) via El Paso and return, $89.

The order of railway conductors holds its fifteenth annual convention at St. Paul on October 17. Delegates from New Mexico will be provided with free transportation.

It is said that the world's stock of locomotives consists of 66,000, of passenger cars there are 120,000, and of freight cars 1,500,000. The capital invested in railways, which are in all 2,000,000 miles long, is $20,000,000,000. The commerce of the seas is carried by 12,000 steamers and 100,000 sailing vessels, whose tonnage amounts to over 20,000,000 tons.

A new time card goes into effect Sunday on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe. It affects only freight trains.

There were but few passengers on the trains which arrived in this city yesterday, and there was but one sleeper attached to last night's Pacific express.

Box cars on the Santa Fe road are being constantly utilized by tramps. Scarcely a freight train arrives in this city but brings passengers who have been the railroad company out of a ride.

Copper City—Its Ore.

There arrived in Bernalillo yesterday ten tons of copper ore, the first shipment from the Homestead lode at Copper City. This event is possibly of more moment to this county and city than the majority of our citizens may think. In the first place it shows that mineral of a high grade has been found in Bernalillo county. Again, it is bringing eastern money into this county, the great desideratum for which all are working. And last, but not least, it opens up a trade over the new bridge that will bring a large amount of trade to Albuquerque that has heretofore been going to Bernalillo.

To Copper City, the arrival of this ore in Bernalillo, is the opening of a new era, one which is destined to make that live camp one of the most successful and richest of any in the Territory.

Every citizen of this county should take pride in the fact that ore of every kind has now been found to exist in sufficient quantities to pay for working.

The executive committee of the Exposition association met yesterday afternoon at the office of Secretary Emmert. The members present were A. M. Codrington, G. Althelm, O. E. Cromwell, W. H. Whitman and Scott Moore. After a general discussion as to the success of the exposition it was agreed that each one present should subscribe such sum as he could afford, the object being to place the financial condition of the association in a position to meet all demands. All those present subscribed liberally, and upon motion Messrs. Codrington and Etheridge were appointed to solicit subscriptions from the citizens of Albuquerque. The gentlemen present while not entirely satisfied with the condition of the finances, were delighted with the success of the exposition in the matter of displays. Secretary Emmert came in for a large share of the praise from those present, as to the manner in which his arduous duties had been performed. It will not be necessary for the board to hold but one or two more meetings when all bills will be paid and the exposition affairs for the year 1892 wound up.

A WOOLEN MILL.

An Interview With Judge Bell and What He Says.

The Building of One in This City a Certainty.

What Such An Industry Will Do for the Metropolis of the Southwest.

Sometime ago The Journal mentioned the fact that Judge Joseph Bell, who was then in New York, was conferring with eastern parties looking to the establishment of a woolen factory in Albuquerque. The enterprise is now almost a foregone conclusion, and the people of this city will very soon have the satisfaction of seeing another large industry added to our thriving metropolis.

A Journal reporter yesterday called upon Judge Bell, at his residence in this city, and gleaned the following facts. The intention of those interested in this enterprise, is first to establish scouring works for the purpose of thoroughly cleaning all the wool that may be brought to this city, not only from New Mexico, but from Arizona. It is a well known fact that in the wool trade much higher prices are obtained for the wool if it is first separated according to its quality, and not shipped all together, the good, bad and indifferent in one sack. This separating is a business by itself, and one that is carried on very extensively in the eastern states.

It is the intention of the gentleman above spoken of, not only to separate the wool, but to scour and cleanse it before it is packed for shipping. The immense saving in freight alone to the people of this and adjoining Territories, will far exceed what might be imagined, the loss in weight by scouring being over fifty per cent, while the value of the wool is increased in a much larger ratio.

The opening of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad will add materially to the quantity of wool brought to this city. The completion of the bridge across the Rio Grande at this point will open up a vast extent of country, the face of which is almost entirely covered by the thousands of sheep. The aim of those who have the enterprise in charge is to be able to handle as high as 5,000,000 pounds of wool per year. The capital to carry this great industry forward is not lacking, the only question now in the minds of those interested being the amount of wool that they will be able to obtain. Gov. Stover, who leaves for the east this morning, will confer with the eastern parties interested with a view to interesting gentlemen who thoroughly understand this branch of the wool business.

After the scouring works shall have been completed and in full running order, and after they shall have proven that the industry will be a success, the gentlemen forming this company intend to erect in this city a large woolen mill—one that can be increased in size as the requirements of the country demand it. There were some problems, Judge Bell remarked, that must be solved here. Among others, as to whether or not sufficient water could be obtained for it will require an immense volume. Then, again, whether or not the water here was sufficiently clear of any deleterious substances that might in the process of washing injure the wool. The problems have now been met and solved in favor of the industry coming to our city.

The machinery will all be purchased in the east and shipped here, and the buildings to receive it will be close to, if not directly in the city.

If the owners of the herds of sheep overrunning the pasture lands of this Territory and of Arizona will consider for a moment that the long fine wool will be most benefited, and the value of the cheap and low grades will be increased fifty per cent, they can fully understand of what immense, almost incalculable, value such an industry would be to them. Southern California must and does have an eastern outlet for its wool, and the very moment the last rail of the Atlantic & Pacific railroad shall have been spiked Albuquerque will be the natural shipping point. Woolen mills in the east build up large cities where none existed before. Hat factories will follow the establishment of a wool center, and, almost before our citizens shall realize it, Albuquerque, the natural metropolis of the southwest, will have come to be numbered among the manufacturing and industrial centers of this country.

Beside the direct advantage attendant upon such an industry, there are others no less certain to follow. Among the most important is the increase of trade to the merchants of this city, consequent upon the large caravans of wool loaded wagons, and their numerous attendants that will come here for supplies. Thousands of dollars worth of merchandise of every description will be freighted back to the innumerable ranches that lie in all directions around this city.

Incipient Fire.

What came near being a disastrous fire, occurred yesterday afternoon on Front street just below Lead Avenue at the Hub saloon. The building is a one-story frame, the back portion being used as a sleeping apartment. Close against the rear wall of the building, there has been stored a large quantity of loose hay which was the cause of the trouble. Some careless individual had, after lighting his pipe, thrown the match in amongst the hay and a fire started. Smoke was seen issuing from between the studding in the back of the building, and those present soon extinguished the fire with very little damage to the house or contents. This is the second fire that has occurred in this city from the same cause—the storing of loose hay in close proximity to a building. Sometime ago a crate of loose hay took fire in the rear of Talbot and Baca's liquor stores, but, being seen in time a fire was prevented.

PERSONAL PENCILINGS.

The People Who Come To and Go From the Central City.

John F. Mullins, of Troy, New York, is visiting the city.

F. H. Butler, of Detroit, is a guest at the Arinjo House.

O. Miller came in from Fort Wingate yesterday afternoon.

Ed. Codrington started for Copper City yesterday afternoon.

G. W. Lawrence, a St. Louis man, arrived in the city last night.

Charles E. Wolcott, Wyandotte, Kansas, is a guest at the Lilwall.

T. A. Conrad, of Chicago, was among last night's arrivals from the east.

J. N. Holmes, Topeka, Kansas, came in last night on the express from the north.

Al. Connors leaves this morning for New York, where he goes to visit friends.

J. N. Dunham and George Sena, Las Vegas, will be at the Rio Grande for a few days.

J. T. Saunders, of the Review, returned from the Democratic convention at Santa Fe last night.

George Holladay, the Bernalillo hotel man, went to Lake Valley last night, and expects to find there another Leadville.

A. F. Clark, who has been acting as deputy sheriff under Lieut. Stover in Apache county, A. T., has returned home.

Columbus Moise came down from Santa Fe last night, and continued on his way to the southern part of the Territory.

The Indian School.

This morning's dispatches bring the news that yesterday Secretary Teller and Inspector Hayworth distributed $50,000 among the Indian schools throughout the country. This item is of great importance to Albuquerque. Some time ago the land was purchased, and plans drawn for the building of an Indian school in this city. Everything connected with matter had to rest for the time being, until this distribution could be made. The foundation for the new school building will be commenced in a very short time, and the building pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. It is a source of congratulation to all those who took an active interest in this matter, that the government of their hopes is to be reached so soon.

The building, when completed, will be an ornament to the city, and of immense benefit to all the surrounding country.

The exposition just closed should be proof conclusive that the schools are not only necessary but they are a success and should be supported by the government.

A Democratic Club.

A meeting was held at the office of The Daily Democrat last evening for the organization of a Manzaneros Democratic campaign club. Mr. Thos. F. Kelcher was chosen temporary president and Mr. Geo. Albright temporary secretary. A roll was prepared and signed by quite a number of Democrats present, and the club adjourned to meet at the same place at 8:30 this evening. The roll may be found at The Democrat office, where all Democrats of this city are invited to call and sign it.

The city was kept in a state of excitement early this morning by the report of fire arms, which seemed to come from every direction at the same time. A Journal reporter sauntered forth to find out, if possible, the occasion for so much noise, but the search failed to reveal any startling causes for these illegal fireworks.

The new Central Bank building is fast nearing completion and will be a great addition to the city. Only one corner now remains to be built upon, when the corner of Gold Avenue and Second street will be the handsomest in the Territory.

To Our Patrons and the Public in General.

We intend to raffle off the two elegant white and black gros grain silk dresses, valued at $250 each, which took the first premium at the last exposition. To all our patrons who traded with us to the amount of $20 at one time we will present a ticket in the valuable raffle free of charge. Tickets also for sale at our Palace Store, price $2; 100 tickets will only be issued for each dress. All our goods will be sold at prices to defy any and every competition.

Respectfully, Spiegelberg Bros., Albuquerque, corner of First street and Gold Avenue.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

There are a number of persons out of employment in every county, yet energetic men willing to work do not need to be. Those willing to work can make from $100 to $500 a month, working for us in a pleasant and permanent business. The amount our agents make varies, some make as high as $500 a month while others as low as $100, all depending upon the energy of the agent. We have an article of great merit. It should be sold to every householder, and pays over 100 per cent profit. Each sale from $2.50 to $10.00. One agent in Pennsylvania sold 32 in two days, and cleared $24.00. An agent in New York made $25.00 in one day. Any man with energy enough to work a full day, and will do this during the year can make from $2,000 to $8,000 a year. We want one man in each county, and to him will give the exclusive sale as long as he continues to work faithfully for us. There is no competition, and nothing like our invention made. Particulars having from $200 to $1,000 to invest, can obtain a general agency for ten counties or a State. Any one can make an investment of from $25 to $1,000 without the least risk of loss, as our circular will show that those investing $5 a can after a 30 days trial return the goods unsold to us and get their money back. It should be sold to every householder, and pays over 100 per cent profit. Each sale from $2.50 to $10.00. One agent in Pennsylvania sold 32 in two days, and cleared $24.00. An agent in New York made $25.00 in one day. Any man with energy enough to work a full day, and will do this during the year can make from $2,000 to $8,000 a year.
